

U.S. BIG TECH

RULES OUR INTERNET

On Canada Day, it's time to
TAKE BACK CONTROL

The internet should serve people. But today, it's ruled by Trump-allied Big Tech corporations and their billionaire owners.

U.S. Big Tech sets the rules that:

- Determine what we see, what's amplified and what disappears.
- Influence what we know, what we think and what we do.
- Extract our data, attention and intellectual property for their profits.
- Makes Canada vulnerable to foreign interference and coercion.
- Minimize the taxes they pay and any regulations designed to hold them accountable.

As a result, Canadians are losing control over our digital lives every day.

It's time to take back control.

Read and sign onto our Canada Day letter to the Prime Minister on trade talks with the U.S. Join our fight for Canada's digital sovereignty.

REWRITE THE RULES.CA

